REUNION

Welcome Old Boys and Girls

What changes have taken place in the homes and congregation since the old boys and girls were home last.

“How dear to this heart are the scenes of my childhood
When fond recollections present them to view;
The orchard, the meadow, the deep tangled wildwood
And every loved spot which my infancy knew.”

There will be a happy reunion in the sweet by and by.

Preface

This souvenir is published for the occasion of the "Old Boys and Girls Reunion". In turning over page after page many happy memories of the past will come back to the old boys and girls. They will find that many changes have taken place in the community, churches and homes. Many of the fathers and mothers, who have exerted an influence for lasting good, will not be with us on this happy occasion, but have gone to their eternal reward and are waiting for a happy and blessed reunion in that eternal home.

Among those who assisted me in preparing this souvenir I am especially indebted to Mr. Alvin Moyer for his untiring interest in furnishing me with information for the preparation of the historical sketch of Campden, and to Miss Laura Houser who wrote on education.

To mention all the features of interest connected with the vicinity, village and people required more space than could be given in this souvenir and therefore if mistakes or oversight occur, I beg for leniency.

May this souvenir answer the purpose in adding to the interest and success of the reunion, and as it finds a place in the home may it always serve as a happy memorial of the happy occasion.

C. S. Finkbeiner,
PASTOR

An Historical Sketch of Campden

The close of the Revolutionary War brought a large increase of population to Canada. Many of the Americans remained loyal to England during the struggle for independence, and when the war was over, these people found themselves looked upon with dislike and suspicion by their republican neighbors. So harsh was the treatment they received that the British Parliament took pity upon them, and voted them a large sum of money in consideration of the losses they had borne by remaining loyal to the British Crown. Besides this grant of money they were given large and valuable tracts of land. It is said that over twenty-five thousand left the United States in 1784, and settled in the British Colonies and of these ten thousand came to Upper Canada, many settling in the Niagara District.

The soldiers of the famous corps known as "Butler Rangers" had at the close of the 18th century extensive holdings in what is now Clinton Township; but these old soldiers were not in every case actual settlers, probably, because of their long military service, which had bred in them a dislike for the toil and privations of pioneer life. This made it easy for the real settlers, who immigrated to this part of Ontario from Pennsylvania, to buy land cheap. When in the year 1799 a prospecting party of "Pennsylvania Dutch" visited the Niagara District, they could buy land along the Indian trail (now the stone road) for one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50). The year following a large number followed this party, among them the names, Albright, Kratz, High, Moyer, Honsberger, Grobb, Gross, Houser, Wismer, Fry, Fretz, Nash and others appear quite prominent. They at once began the work of clearing farms and erecting buildings, so that now the district is justly known as the "Garden of Canada." The County of Lincoln has long been noted for being the greatest fruit district of Ontario. Its fertile lands are lying for a distance of miles along the southern shores of Lake Ontario. It is dotted with prosperous villages, towns and cities, and has good transportation facilities by land and water.

In the very heart of this most picturesque range is the good old township of Clinton, which has furnished many men that have exerted a marked influence in our national and church life. Campden is a quiet rural village in the township of Clinton. Twenty-five miles west is the city of Hamilton, twelve miles east is the city of St. Catharines and eighteen miles east the world-wide renowned and wild rushing Niagara Falls, which marks the border line between the Great Republic and the equally imperial domain of a mighty Empire.

The first immigrants of this district almost without exception were honest, industrious and God-fearing men and women holding in their religion to the old "Mennonite Church," preaching the doctrine of separation from what had the appearance of being worldly and sinful. They insisted that their people should not only be church members but also of a good moral character. The moral and religious character of these first settlers left an impress for all time to come on the district and upon succeeding generations.

When the children of these first settlers grew up to man and womanhood and found themselves face to face with the necessity of providing a home for themselves, they sought the land to the south of them, called the "Mountain." Judging from the accounts they handed down to their children and grand-children, the outlook must have been very uninviting and discouraging. The date when the first settlers on the mountain began their work of clearing up farms is unknown; but it is quite certain that there were houses near where the village of Campden is now located while the war of 1812 was in progress. About that time a log cabin was erected by Luther De Forris, on the site where the present town hall stands, who also dug the well (now the property of J. A. Moyer,) which still furnishes water for the local option citizens of Campden. After he moved out one by name Winegarden took possession of it of whom it is said that he was in his time of some use to the first settlers in that he would under no circumstances allow his fire to go out and the neighbors to whom matches were then unknown, whose fire unhappily went out, could always get coal from him to rekindle theirs. When the first settlers took possession of land, the farm of the south-east corner of Campden was owned by Mr. Funk, the north-east corner by Mr. John Moyer, generally known as "Squire John," the north-west by Mr. Osborne, then by Mr. Stricker and later by Mr. Michael Houser, and the south-west by Mr. Samuel S. Moyer known as "Fly Sam." Sometime in the fifties of the last century Mr. Abraham Swartz moved a house (now owned by Mrs. S. Althouse) to the site it now occupies. Mr. Swartz being a tailor by trade, was consequently the first business man of the village. He later sold out to two brothers by name of Immel who turned it into a shoe shop and later Mr. Owen Slaven secured the property and for sometime did an extensive business in weaving. The second house (owned by the late Mr. Wm. Honsberger) was built by Mr. Jacob Albright, a son-in-law of Samuel S. Moyer, who started a cabinet shop. There was also at this time at the east corner of the land now owned by Mr. J. M. Wismer a cigar factory in operation. With three business places the village was now fairly started. The Mennonite church about one-half of a mile east of the village was erected in 1843, Abraham Moyer and Tilman Moyer being ministers at that time.

With the growth of the village and the surrounding community a Post Office was made a necessity. Until this time the village went by the name "Moyers' Corners" and one by name Noah Albright carried the mail twice a week from Beamsville, being paid by voluntary subscription by the people. When the Post Office was opened by Mr.

J. C. Rykert M.P. he said as there were too many "villes" and "corners" in the country the name should be changed. He suggested that the village be named after an Earl's son in England, saying that in England there are two counties Gainsboro and Clinton lying side by side, in the one the Earl lived and of the other he was Earl. This Earl's son's name was Campden. So with the approval of the citizens the name Campden was adopted, and Mr. H. W. Moyer was appointed as the first postmaster. Mr. Moyer kept a general store in connection with the Post Office, first in the building before mentioned, (owned by Mrs. Althouse) and later in the present Post Office building, which was erected in 1862. Mr. J. B. Grobb was Mr. Moyer's successor, who, after serving the public fourteen years, sold his store to Mr. Hummel, who in his time gave place to Mr. D. Albright, the present holder of the position.

Later Mr. Jacob S. Moyer who was a prominent citizen of Campden, after being for a short time in partnership with Mr. Grobb opened another general store in the building now occupied by Mr. G. R. Stewart. Mr. Moyer's business was later carried on in turn by Chr. Haist, Isaac M. Moyer, Wm. Hipple, Jr. and A. Moote, the latter secured in 1894, the hotel property and carried on his business until 1901 when he sold out to Mr. J. A. Moyer.

The hotel which was built in 1878 by Daniel Zimmerman was after May 1, 1886, when the Scott Act came in force, of no value as a hotel and since 1890 no license has been issued or asked for in the township of Clinton, a striking example of the value of education and moral suasion in solving the drink problem. It may be said that the village owes much of its present freedom to the temperance lodges. Sometime about the year 1880 a lodge called the Independent Order of Good Templars was organized of which many of the old boys and girls were members. This society carried on an active campaign against the glass, pointing out to the young people the advantage of total abstinence. In 1887 a lodge of the Sons of Temperance was organized which also did much in the interest of temperance. There is in Canada no district where the temperance sentiment is stronger than in Camden and the township of Clinton.

The village also had an association of the Patrons of Industry and a Farmers Union and has at the present time two fraternal societies.

Among other citizens not mentioned who influenced for good the life of the community, and who for a generation was the hope of the sick in the vicinity, Dr. A. Comfort should be mentioned. In addition to his success in his profession was noted for his kind disposition and christian character. He was succeeded in his practice by his son Dr. F. S. Comfort, who proved to be a worthy son of his father. He also performed to the general satisfaction of the vicinity the arduous duties of his profession, until failing health compelled him to retire. He then sold his practice to Dr. W. R. Mason our present capable and popular practitioner.

Another who was a very familiar figure in the village for many years was Tilman W. Moyer, who was a carpenter by trade and for some time was running a sash and door factory, to which was added the business of undertaker and furniture. Since his death the business is carried on by Mr. A. Hansel.

In the year 1905 Campden was incorporated as a Police Village, when Dr. F. S. Comfort, Jacob M. Moyer and Alvin Moyer were elected as Police-Trustees. Since its incorporation cement sidewalks were laid throughout the entire village. May the citizens of Campden set the standard high.

VINELAND

In Lincoln County, is situated on the townline between Louth and Clinton townships, and on the Grimsby and Queenston stone road. It is in the heart of the Niagara fruit district.

What made Vineland Famous. This district was one of the earliest settlements in Ontario. The pioneers were noted for their sturdiness, thrift and prosperity. The old name of this district "The Twenty" is a synonym of the progress and prosperity of its people. Every farm is in a high state of cultivation, every homestead still occupied and prosperous. The best grain and fruit crops have been produced here.

What We Have. A population of only one hundred and fifty, most of which came here in the last few years. Nearly every resident is a proprietor. Post office, with two mail deliveries each day. A good general store, practical smith and horseshoer, shoemaker, employment agencies and supplies, feed store and custom grinding, two wagonmakers, carpenters, contractor, painters, cement block factory, lumber dealer, wire and tence agency, two telephone companies, Bell and Niagara District (independent), two greenhouses, two large nurseries, the new experimental farm. We have the best soil in the Niagara District for growing all kinds of small and tree fruits. Climate if comparatively mild and even. Drainage, good. Water, abundant and best quality. We also have one of the best mineral wells in the country, the water is highly recommended by the medical profession for inflammation, rheumatic and kidney troubles, gout, goitre and glandular enlargements of all kinds. The school is of the best. A number of churches nearby. And the moral tone of the neighborhood good. No hotels in Vineland.

What We Need. Laborers.—Work is plentiful, labor scarce, wages high. We need a good stonemason, a number of carpenters, a butcher shop, a bakery, (three wagons from neighboring towns make regular trips to Vineland and vicinity); a tinsmith, a harnessmaker, a canning factory, a basket and crate factory, etc.

Advantages. The development of the community is bound to increase the population. Property is cheaper than in larger towns. Labor is abundant. A small lot with fruit will nearly make you your living. Splendid market. An ideal location.

Prospects. All of the large farms going into the fruit business. Connections by trolley with Hamilton and Niagara Falls, by boat from Jordan Harbor with Toronto, a station on the Grand Trunk, a macadamized driveway connecting the village with the experimental farm and the lake. The prospects also of one of the best power plants and ship canal in the province, giving cheap power, light and water in unlimited quantities. A good sanitarium in connection with the mineral well.

A visit to St. Catharines means a call at the McLaren Department Store, the premier mercantile establishment of the Garden City and surrounding territory, where nearly every article of personal and household utility and adornment is to be found on sale. The store that holds to quality first and foremost and brings the price down to the lowest possible degree. This is the policy on which this business has been built to its present proportions, and this is the policy which holds sway and bids for still greater business. We aim to satisfy yet larger numbers.

An Historical Sketch of the Church of the Evangelical Association

The history of this congregation dates back to the year 1841 when the missionaries of the Evangelical Association Schwille, Eis, Kehr and Gross travelled through these parts and preached occasionally in the home of Mr. Schock. Under the labors of said ministers as far as known only the sainted Joseph Frey publicly professed conversion. In the year 1848 a revival fire broke out led by a young man by name of Jacob M. Moyer, a brother to Samuel M. Moyer, who was known throughout our whole conference and church as a zealous, untiring and successful evangelist. After this young man was converted in his parents home, he immediately began to exhort the people to repent and be converted to God. The new converts after this revival began to hold prayer meeting and continued the Sunday School, which had been started a year or so before under the leadership of the above named pious young man Joseph

Frey. In the year 1849 Rev. F. Scharfe was stationed on this field and preached his first sermon in the home of Martin Link, but his house being too small, William Hipple Sr., offered to open his large house for service. This first service in Mr. Hipple's home was a memorable one which is recorded in the history of the Evangelical Association. The large house could not hold all the people, some came as far as ten miles to this service. Mr. Scharfe based his sermon on Jeremiah 8, 22, which made a wonderful impression and resulted in the conversion of fifteen. The next service was held in the home of John Hipple and the following Sunday at Jordan, the first baptism of adults by one of our preachers took place, a class was organized and William Hipple was elected as the first class leader and Joseph Fry as the first exhorter of the congregation. Immediately steps were taken for the erection of a church. Samuel M. Moyer, Michael Houser and Jacob Oberholzer were elected as a building committee and Samuel Fry, Jacob Moyer and Abraham Moyer as the first trustees. Sunday, July 17, 1850 it was dedicated by Rev. Wm. Schmitt P. E. In 1872 the present church was built at Campden which was dedicated by Rev. R. Dubs the then editor of our German church periodical "Der Christliche Botschafter," and in 1887 was renovated and beautifully decorated by hands of artistic skill.

At the time of this writing the church is again undergoing a general renovation which makes it one of the finest and most commodious churches in the Canada Conference. The re-opening to take place on June 30, 1907, in connection with the old boys and girls reunion, by Bishop S. C. Breyfogel D.D. To encourage the congregation to undertake the work of renovation, we are much indebted to Mr. M. F. Rittenhouse, of Chicago, Illinois, for his liberal donation of Five Hundred Dollars ($500) which will always be thankfully remembered by the congregation.

The members of this congregation are, with few exceptions, not of the wealthiest class, but have always taken a deep interest in the financial and spiritual welfare of the church. Besides being from its beginning self-sustaining, they have always nobly supported the mission cause and other benevolent institutions. The future prospect of the church is bright and encouraging.

Education

The history of education begins with the childhood of the race and its progress may be traced step by step. It is the development of the human soul. History both sacred and profane furnishes the names of many great educators whose mighty educational reforms have made possible the various educational systems existing among civilized nations. Second to none of these we believe our own school system as we find it in Ontario.

Even a century ago, thoughtful men of the Province began to concern themselves as to how to make our school system more efficient and to assist the struggling settlers to provide means of education for their children. Our forefathers in this school section No. 6, Clinton, were not backward in taking advantage of these provisions and those entrusted with the responsibility of providing adequate school accommodation, have always taken pride in keeping abreast of the times in matters of education.

The first school site in the community was where Mr. Byron Eckhardt's residence now stands. Later the school house was moved to the opposite side of the "Fly Road," and about forty rods nearer Campden. Here in the "Old Red School House" many of our fathers and grandfathers received their education.

Some of the Public School Teachers at Campden

ABRAHAM N. MOYER, Kansas City, Kan.

JACOB HIPPLE

Born 1832. Died 1895

The late Mr. Hipple was for many years a prominent leader and officer in the church at Campden. He taught in the Campden Public School many years.

In 1856 a school house was built at Campden on the site of the present school building. This was a frame structure and is now owned by Mr. A. Hansel, undertaker. About 30 years ago the present commodious school building was provided.

From the walls of these institutions of learning have gone forth those who have filled responsible positions in many of the great centres of both Canada and the United States. We have among them, lawyers, doctors, ministers of the gospel and men prominent in almost every department of the business world. Public School teachers, upwards of forty received their first education at Campden. In this alone Campden's influence has spread far and wide.

Then there is also to be noted the imperishable influence of those who did not go abroad, but of whom we are equally proud, those who remained in the old homesteads, and by their lives of industry and thrift, by their unwavering adherence to right and faith have upheld the moral standard of our community.

The following is the roll of the Public School teachers:

Nicholas Jaques, Pennington, O'Brien, Russell, Miss E. Gross, Miss Comfort, Henry Wismer, Isaac Obetholt, Abraham Moyer, S. Nash, Eli Moyer, Jacob Hipple, Freeman Moyer, F. Morrison, Miss Laura Houser.
